

Action on climate change is in our hands

FAIRTRADE

This November is our last, best chance to secure a future for our planet. As global leaders meet at the COP26 climate summit, we need urgent action.

Climate change is already damaging the livelihoods of farming communities who grow so much of our food. They are on the front line of a worsening crisis they have done the least to cause. It's not a faraway problem – it affects us all.

1.8 million Fairtrade farmers and workers are calling for those in power to: Be fair with your climate promise.

We need our leaders to:

- Ensure that the $100 billion per year they pledged to tackle a changing climate reaches those who need it most
- Take responsibility for international aviation and shipping emissions in their carbon-cutting commitments
- Make trade deals that encourage fair, low carbon products that allow farmers to invest in sustainable farming
- Strengthen rules that mean businesses invest in fair, sustainable supply chains, and compel those who fall short to meet their responsibilities

Stand with the farmers and workers we all rely on.
Support their call for change. Sign the petition now.
